

VISTA LESSON 7

CREATE MY COMPUTER & CONTROL PANEL ICONS ON YOUR DESKTOP

For any number of reasons I find myself using Computer (formerly My Computer in Windows XP and earlier versions of Windows) and Control Panel to get to settings, drives and more. Of course to get to Computer and Control Panel you currently have to 1st click on the Start button and then on your selection. I find it easier and much faster to have Computer and Control Panel shortcut icons on my Desktop. Here is how it's done.

Click on Start, right-click on Computer and then click on Show on Desktop. Do the same thing with Control Panel. That's it. You're done. Now you have desktop shortcuts for both Computer and Control Panel. It works for me.
